TUESDAY, : : : MARCH 30, 1875.

THE railroad war between Tom Scott and Garrett is not yet over. A telegram from Trenton, New Jersey, in the New York Sun, says that Mr. Garrett is after the New Jersey Southern, New York and Long Branch and New Egypt extension, thus securing a competing line with the Pennsylvania railroad from New York. To secure this he caused to be introduced in the legislature a billor supplement—giving him the right to operate connecting roads. The bill became a law without the governor's signature. On Wednesday Mr. Hopper presented a repealer. In this, Tom Scott's hand appeared, and the bill, though it had passed to a second reading, was declared inadmissable, recalled, and tabled. Yesterday Mr. Hopper introduced the following adroitly-worded bill, which is for the same purpose as the one recalled on Wednesday. Should this measure become operative, the Pennsylvania company will have se- act." cured victory, for it virtually forbids Mr. Garrett controlling or in any way operating established roads through the State:

An act to repeal or abrogate certain fran-chises granted by the State of New Jersey. SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That so much of any charter or other special act of the legislature as is embodied or worded in the language following, that is to say: "That it shall be lawful for the said company to purchase, lease, or operate, or to lease their road or any part thereof to or consolidate the same with any railroad which may at any time connect with or intersect their road; or to guarantee the bonds of such company; or to consoli-date the stock of said company with their own, on terms to be mutually agreed on; Provided, such purchase or consolidation shall not be made without the assent of a majority in interest of the stockholders," be and the same is hereby repealed; Provided, that this act shall not apply to any corporation the charter of which is not subject to repeal or modification.

Legislation of this character may, as it very likely will, win for the present, but when it is made apparent to the people that its aim and end is the defeat of the competition upon which they must rely for reasonable passenger and freight rates, a recoil will come more fatal to the interest that secures it than any immediate triumph of the opposition it thus seeks to crush. The people are opposed to monopolies, and will not lend themselves to such schemes of aggrandizement as are sketched in the above act. If New Jersey is true to her own interests she will, rather than pass this, legislate a clear field and no favors.

WE direct the attention of all classes of our readers to the report of the Church Home, to be found on the fourth page of this issue. It will interest not only members of the Episcopal church, but the charitably disposed of all religious denominations who desire to see such institutions sustained as the most cred- at Little Rock, escaped Friday night. itable evidences of the growth of that community effort, to which the APPEAL has so often called attention. While in a very fair condition so far as the Home itself is concerned, the treasury of the orphans we regret to say is at so low an ebb as to be a source of great anxiety to those especially who, while they are friendly to the Home, cannot participate in the work and know nothing of the methods adopted by the good women who keep it up. We call especial attention to this fact, and appeal to the whole people of Memphis in behalf of the little ones who are too young to make an effort for themselves. It will be seen from what Mrs. Pickett says, that it takes but little to sustain the Home, and that unnothing to be desired in that direction. of colored friends. An institution so happily situated and thus providently controlled commends itself to the heart and head of every one, and, we hope, will be made to feel, in a large-hearted and generous way, that it is worthy of the fostering care of the people of Memphis of all classes and creeds.

WE copy elsewhere in this issue a notice of Judge Emmons's charge to the grand jury concerning the civil rights bill, from the Detroit Post, the organ of Ex-Senator Chandler. It is especially significant, coming, as it does, from an ultra Radical organ. It shows that the opinion of Judge Emmons is likely to meet approval from all quarters, and will undoubtedly be sustained by the supreme court as sound law and a correct judgment, a fact which will add largely to the high reputation Judge Emmons has aiready achieved, and which must be especially gratifying to him after having assumed so bold a responsibility, especially in the face of Democratic triumphs, and the assumptions of the leaders of the party to which he adheres. The extract from the Detroit Tribune, an independent paperipublished at Judge Emmons's home, shows in what estimation he is held by those who know him best. It fully justifles the admiration everywhere felt and sometimes expressed in tones almost extravagant by those who come in contact with him on his circuit. We relates at these evidences of the public countenance and favor, and hail them as evidencing a determination on the part of the people of the whole Union to return to constitutional methods. We again congratulate Judge Emmons.

FROM a circular before us we learn that the second annual convention of the Millers' national association will be held at the city of St. Louis, Missouri, May 12, 1875, commencing at ten o'clock in the morning. All State associations will be expected to send at least eight delegates, and as many more as. they may be entitled to under the rule of one for every ten mills represented in their respective State associations. A like and struck a match to look at his cordial invitation is extended to the millers at large, in all the States and fired at Jones, probably mortally wound-Canadas, organized and unorganized, to ing him. attend en masse, and sit as honorary members under such regulations as may learn that there is a great deal of sickness be adopted, to the end that the benefits to be derived from this important gathering may be as widely disseminated as | ber of deaths have occurred. TELEGRAPHIC advices from Washington say that instructions will immediately be issued through the war dein Texas, to take such measures as may be possible to deal summarily with the Mexican raiders. Those best conversant with affairs apprehend that a general border war will ensue, in which event the invasion of Mexico by our armed citizens in pursuit of the robbers is not among the improbabilities.

THE Mobile Register says of the charge of Judge Emmons to the Memphis grand jury that it is perfectly proper, and adds: "So clear is it to every lawyer that the civil rights act is unconstitutional that the judge did wisely in removing from the consideration of the grand jury all cases arising under it. yer expected when the Republican party imposed upon the people the odious

The total value of the John Hopkin estate, of Baltimore, as appraised, is about $7,150,000. Of this the John Hopkins university has received $3,150,000, the John Hopkins hospital upwards of $3,076,000, and the relatives and other devisees and legatees the balance, except $102,154 22 yet to be divided be-tween the hospital and the university. The executors have, in compliance with the will, rendunced the $227,000 of commissions fixed by law, and allowed them by the orphans court. The total cost of settling up the estate has been less than three-quarters of one per cent.

The treasurer of the United States will soon issue an order amending the regulations governing the redemption o United States currency, so that in cases of mutilation a reduction will be made in proportion to the part missing. In case of legal-tender notes, if less than one-tenth of the original note is missing, verted since 1868. All Protestant chapels the mutilation will be disregarded; i one-tenth is missing, one-tenth of its value will be deducted; if more than one-tenth and less than one-fifth is missing, one-fifth of its value will be deducted, and so on, reckoning by tenths; but no note of which less than one-half of the original is presented will be redeemed without evidence that the missing portion is totally destroyed. The same rule will be applied to mutilated

The annual report was read, and showed that during the past fifty years more than ten million publications had been issued, and of these more than half a million were volumes. ties from four provinces occupied by the Carlists have met to consider the request of Don Carlos for contributions, and have replied that the country is exhausted. Fresh sacrifices are impossible, and Don Carlos ought to procure funds abroad. This they obstinately maintained, notwithstanding Don Carlos threatened to retire from Spain. Dispatches from Madrid report that Don Carlos has ordered that all persons found reading the Cabreras manifesto to be shot. There have been additional instances of the fraternizing of Carlist and government troops on the banks of the Oria. In one of the Carlist camps pla-cards, headed, "Viva Peace—the Feueros and General Cabrera," have been posted. The government announces that the Carlist generals, three colonels, and many other officers, have entered France, and declared adhesion to King Alfonso.
